

Workshop SEEDS December 20 2022

Workshops are always an important milestone in the development of the Sustainability Environmental Economics and Dynamics Studies - SEEDS, the inter-university center created in 2012. This event will be addressed to young researchers sharing their ongoing works. Papers will provide an inter and multi-disciplinary perspective, focusing on the several dimensions of sustainable development and the multi-faceted aspects of economic analysis of sustainability transition issues. Attendance is open to all and strongly encouraged for PhD's and Master's students.

The event will take place on December 20 at Aula Magna, Department of Economics and Management - University of Ferrara, Via Voltapaletto, 11, 44121 Ferrara. We strongly encourage to take part at the event. However, there will be also the possibility to attend online to those who wish. In both cases, participants should fill this form for attendance <https://forms.gle/FnQBgtxuUWJKRY4RA>
